THE RESET QUEEN

Reset Peak Performance is the premier consulting solution for growth-minded individuals and organizations that want to achieve their goals faster and increase their income, impact, and insight. Our expert trainers walk them through a step-by-step system to:

- R - Release what is not working well personally and professionally
- E - Explore what's possible in the near and distant future
- S - Strategize and Plan based on new organization vision and goals
- E - Evaluate what resources and team members are needed
- T - Take action to start strong and stay on track

Our workshops and presentations are for companies that are serious about growth. Those who are hungry for more. Those who are passionate about serving their clients at the highest level.

The Reset Peak Performance team has more than 100 years of combined experience in creating lasting transformation. Our leader, Attiyah Blair, is a sought-after international keynote speaker. Attiyah teaches our clients how to achieve their goals easier and faster than they thought was possible.

The program was created to unlock your team's strength, genius, and efficiency which would be the catalyst for your organization to experience growth and strides in:

Retention Education Sales Efficiency Team building

ABOUT THE Reset Queen

Attiyah Blair is known as the Reset Queen because she is a master at achieving goals. She is an accomplished corporate consultant, international speaker and real estate investor. She has hit the reset button many times in her own life and is passionate about sharing her strategies for success with organizations wanting to build high-performing teams.

Attiyah started Reset Peak Performance after a decade of success in her own business as well as a 10-year career working in television with NBC, CBS and FOX News.

Reset Peak Performance was born after Attiyah saw first hand the significant need in organizations to:

- Identify limiting beliefs in employees causing low performance
- Align the team's vision to accumulate effort towards common goals
- Create measurable metrics to increase certainty of success
- Have transparency in training and accountability required to help employees go to the next level
- Reward employees taking action to boost moral and team effort

Community of Resetters

Attiyah educates and impacts thousands of people every year while speaking at conferences, corporations and schools. She helps teams and leaders become peak performers so their company can improve overall growth, sales, retention and alliance among team members. A R.E.S.E.T is always necessary before growth.
